OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

The main object of the Society is to ensure that no more species of wild animals shall be exterminated within the British Empire.

It considers that this can be best effected by creating a sound public opinion on the subject at home and abroad, by furthering the formation of National Parks, and by enforcing suitable game laws and Regulations. It believes that practical measures can be found by which every species of wild life can be preserved without hampering in the slightest the economic development and civilization of our territories.

It is no part of the aim of the Society to preserve animal life at the expense of human industry or natural development; nor does it offer any opposition to the fair and legitimate pursuits of the sportsman.

The Society cannot attain its object without a large and influential membership. It therefore invites the co-operation and assistance of all persons throughout the Empire who are interested in the preservation of wild life.
